THE PRICE OFFENSIVE

Many persons seem to remember the lesson taught them by Air Force Gen. Benny Meyers on how to gouge the military on prices. The general is now in the clink but his trial was one of the post-war sensations.

It was revealed that he organized a company to make an aircraft item, set up a straw man to run it, and sold these items back to himself as head of Air Force procurement. In the testimony it was revealed the item cost about $7 to manufacture but that General Meyers set the price to the Air Force at something over $40.

It might be thought people would learn, but evidently not. The Defense Department, explaining some of its inability to get along on increasingly larger budgets, points out that while prices have doubled and more, some are completely out of line. Defense heads say one unidentified item has increased 300 per cent in price. There has been a 160 per cent boost in crude rubber prices.

Fighter planes used today are tremendously more complicated than those of 1943. Nor can all the price gouging be attributed to alleged patriots at home. Foreign nations are taking advantage of alleged shortages to make Uncle Sam the goat once again. But there are instances of gouging by American businessmen.

Can't they see the inevitable result? The pattern goes like this: A businessman jacks the price of a military item sky high. The Defense Department begins to get a quarter to a half less for the same amount of funds expended. Shortages occur in the supply pipelines and the war is prolonged. If the government slaps controls on the price structure everyone will suffer, chiselers included.

This seemed like a good time to point out some of the fallacies as well as the shabby aspects of this price offensive. For the perpetrators are just beginning to mount it in force.

SWIFTLY-TURNING TIDE

Experiences at Anzio and in other similar operations in World War II have warned Americans not to expect too much too soon from such maneuvers. But the immense size of the landing armada made it clear that the landing at Inchon was a major offensive operation.

For all practical purposes, the war in Korea is ended. Unless Russia is determined to prolong it, that is. The North Koreans are licked. The South Korean capital of Seoul, is the main gateway through which poured the munitions and supplies for the North Korean troops which ringed the U. S. beachhead at Pusan. The enemy's line of supply now is functioning spasmodically.

The shift from the defensive to the offensive in Korea came sooner than most persons had hoped, and the success of the offensive is amazing.

Opening of school has increased employment, with more dads than ever working their sons' way through college.

Armor-Led U. S. Marines Storm Into Seoul Today

one ridge to cross Wednesday evening before reaching the Seoul-Suwon highway, ten miles below the Inchon-Seoul road. The important junction of Suwon lies 18 miles south of Seoul.

Cutting off the Seoul-Suwon road would block the main avenue for the movement of Red reinforcements to the capital from the south-east Korean sectors where the enemy was withdrawing at most points.

The initial stab into Seoul, a city normally populated by some 1,000,000 persons, was made during Wednesday night by tank-led U. S. First Marine Division troops which had crossed the Han river early Wednesday.

These Leathernecks smashed into the capital's northern limits after an eight-mile advance down the Han's northeast bank from their crossing point at Haengju.

They closed in to come to grips with an estimated 18,000 North Korean troops inside the city, as droves of Allied carrier-borne and land-based planes hammered Seoul's Red defenses.

The central prong of the triple-headed inland advance from the Inchon beachhead, carved out last Friday, was comprised of carrier U. S. Marine forces which crashed through the suburb of Yongdungpo to the Han's southwest bank.

After capturing Yongdungpo Wednesday afternoon in heavy fighting, these Marines swung along a three-lane highway, with tanks and mobile guns, to surround the Kyongsong airfield adjoining the Han directly opposite Seoul.

Their forward units were reported in late field advices to have reached the wide Han near the main railroad bridge that spans the river into the center of the ancient Korean capital.

The rail bridge, as well as two other big spans nearby, had long since been bombed out by American planes.

The Marines smashed across a small stream between Yongdungpo and the Han as they punched into Seoul's southwest environs preparatory to a second major Leatherneck crossing of the Han.

The stage was set for the climactic battle to liberate Seoul after South Korean marines Wednesday had effected a new amphibious landing on South Korea's east coast at the port of Samchok. The latter lies 115 airline miles due east of Seoul.

The South Koreans swept ashore at Samchok while other Allied troops scored gains ranging up to six miles Wednesday in a general push to break out from the old United Nations beachhead in Korea's southeast corner.

Most significant of the actions on the southeast front was a combined new smash across the Nakdong river by troops of the U. S. 24th and First Cavalry Divisions beyond the captured junction of Waegwan.

By Wednesday evening these forces had driven ahead west of the Nakdong two and a quarter miles and were within less than 16 miles southeast of Kumsong.

Firemen To Give Stage Production

and other scheduled plans will start at once.

The famous stage visit takes place in Dillsford, a pretty little town situated on the beautiful Ruffe River. For many years it has been hoped that a city park and recreation center could be built by the banks of this beautiful stream. Both Senator Pendennis Pampaus and Aunt Silly visit town at the same time; and these two, added to all the other gay characters in this rollicking play, create an atmosphere of rich confusion and merriment that everyone's sides will be aching with laughter.

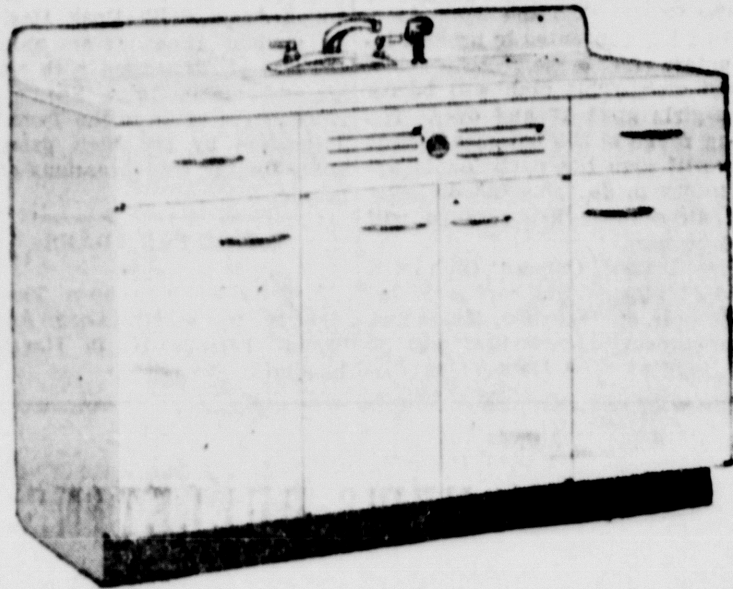

Aunt Silly, as you may have guessed, was unable to come at the last minute and her place was reluctantly taken by Sen. Sellum. Senator Pampaus gets mighty interested in the millions of dollars in Aunt Silly's bank account.

Fathers Meet in First Session of Fall Season

The Fathers' Association of the Bristol public schools held its first meeting of the season last night in the high school cafeteria with President Walter Rosser presiding.

A past president's pin was presented to William Pearson by the new president. President Rosser also appointed a scholarship committee of David Hertzler, John Burris, and Pearson.

Speakers for the evening were: Superintendent of schools, Warren P. Snyder; head football coach, Harry McClister; assistant football coach, Anthony DiAngelo; and Jerry Bloom, basketball coach, who is assisting at the football games with the amplifying system.

Mr. Snyder, a member of the association since 1923, told of the organizing of the association with Dr. Frank Lehman as the first president. He stated that it has been a smooth running organization from the start. He spoke of the school activities and of the expanded program for both girls and boys, and the fact that an application has been made for a new senior high school.

Coach McClister told of the prospects for this season's football team. He stated that the team is small but fast and has plenty of spirit. He added that his replacements are not very deep.

The officers of the association for the 1950 year are: President, Walter Rosser; vice - president, Nicholas Mannherz; treasurer, Walter Cooper; financial secretary, George Perkins; recording secretary, Joseph Buck; executive committee, William Pearson, William White, Carlo Juno, Arthur Phipps, John Morici, and Horace Jefferies.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

A Prayer for Opportunities
Lord, may we contemplate each day with the thought that opportunity affords us in time for doing that which has eternal value. For all these waiting opportunities may we make the most of them. May the joy that comes from the doing of a good deed urge us on to greater exploits for Thee. May the gladness look of one encouraged along the way help us to see even greater spheres of usefulness. FRANKLIN ENTERS THE FINAL ROUND OF THE PLAYOFFS

Franklin A. C. entered the final round of the Bristol Suburban Softball League playoffs by beating Jefferson A. C., 5-2, last evening in a well-played game on Memorial Park field. Franklin now meets Second Ward, regular season champions, in a three-game series, starting tomorrow evening.

Good clutching hitting and effective pitching by Jack Spencer plus a tremendous home run from the bat of "Dezzy" DeLise paved the way for Franklin to capture the third and deciding game of the series.

Spencer held the Jefferson team to five hits but it wasn't until the last half of the sixth that he was practically certain of victory for the Jefferson team was dangerous throughout.

The winner clubbed "Amy" Lewis for eight hits, six of which were made in the first and sixth frames. Lewis had trouble in disposing of DeLise and "Toby" Oriola who accounted for five of the Franklin blows.

It was DeLise who started Franklin off to scoring in the initial frame when he doubled to left and trotted home on Oriola's three-bagger. Oriola scored on "Rabbit" Palumbo's hit. Lewis retired the next three batters.

Jefferson got a run back in the second when Tony Cauti lashed a two-bagger to center and scored on Peltz's hit to left. Cauti was almost doubled off second when Bert Barbetta made a fine running catch of Al Ciambella's blooper over second.

DeLise cracked out his homer for a Franklin run in the third while Jefferson cut the lead to one run by crossing the plate in the top of the sixth. With one gone, Steve Clotti singled to left. Spencer stopped Ray Pierandozzi's hard smash but threw low to first and by the time the ball was retrieved in right-field, Clotti dented the plate.

Franklin sewed up the game in their part of the inning on a single by Oriola, a single by Bert Barbetta,

"Rent Stations" To Be Opened in Bucks County

as well as at the Philadelphia Area Rent Office, 165 S. 16th Street, which is open five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m."

Any small landlord in Bucks County, owning buildings containing no more than four rental dwelling units, is entitled to file for a fifteen per cent rent increase on units where there has been no increase since June 30, 1947. This new plan is in effect in Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties, as well as Bucks county.

Turchi cautioned landlords against filing this new "small landlord's petition" on housing accommodations where there has already been a rent increase since June 30, 1947, either by rent office order or through a voluntary rent-increase-lease.

"If a landlord feels he is entitled to an increase on property where some type of increase is already in effect since June 30, 1947, he must file a different type of petition form. Our consultants will be glad to advise him how to proceed."

Mr. Turchi promises that within a very short time after the receipt of a small landlord's petition the Philadelphia Area Rent Office will approve the requested rent if it complies with the specified conditions. A copy of the approval setting forth the new legal maximum rent under federal law, will be mailed to both the landlord and tenant.

Republican Registrations Here Outnumber Democrat

In Bristol last Saturday, when registrars sat here to enroll voters, the Republicans registered outnumbered the Democrats by almost one-third.

County registrar Robert F. Detweiler announces that there were 97 Republicans, 66 Democrats, and six no-party registrations here. Registrars also visited Quakertown, where 32 Republicans, 34 Democrats, one no-party, and one Independent registered. The figures include residents of not only the boroughs, but neighboring townships.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA

St. Mary's Hall
BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 21 — An event of unusual interest to the many friends of St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, N. J., took place on the afternoon of September 17 in the school's Chapel of the Holy Innocents, when a beautiful Memorial window was dedicated by the Rt. Rev. Wallace J. Gardner. It was given by St. Mary's Society of Graduates in recognition of Miss Eliza Rogers Ridgeway's twenty years of service as President of the Society.

The sermon was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Harold E. Wynn, Bishop of Ely, England, who fortunately is in this country on a visit. The tomb of St. Etheldreda, one of the two 7th century saints, whose figures are the main feature of the window design, is at Ely so it was particularly appropriate that Bishop Wynn should preach on this occasion.

The Chapel was crowded with former graduates and Miss Ridgeway's other friends. As the clergy of the Diocese were starting their three day Annual Conference at St. Mary's on that day, the choir stalls were filled with the rectors of the Florence Lukens Newbold, the Headmistress.

PETERSON-APPENZELLER
FALLSINGTON, Sept. 21 — On Saturday at four o'clock, Miss Margaret Ruth Appenzeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Appenzeller, of Yardley, became the bride of Mr. C. James Peterson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Peterson, Edgely, in Fallsington Methodist Church. The Rev. Samuel Gaskell performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson are enjoying a week's motor trip through the New England states. They will live in an apartment on State street, Newtown.

MORE DEEDS SHOW ACTIVITY IN COUNTY

An Increase of 1,222 Deeds
Recorded in Past Eight Months

MORTGAGES INCREASE

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 21—An indication of the activity in real estate in Bucks County is the fact that 1,222 more deeds have been recorded during the first eight months of 1950 than during the same period a year ago. This indicates that people are moving out from the congested city areas into various Bucks county townships and boroughs, with by far the most activity in the townships.

Records in the office of the Bucks County Recorder of Deeds here, as well as records in the Montgomery County Court House, show a big increase in the deed business. There were also 930 more mortgages recorded in the Bucks County Court House during the first eight months this year, over the same period last year.

A representative of a well known utility firm who is stationed here at the present time, pointed out yesterday that several years ago the moving trend was toward Philadelphia's Main Line section, which is now practically filled. The result has been a very noticeable move to the Northeast, including Bucks county, and mostly along the Delaware River area in lower Bucks county.

Real estate business has been booming in the Morrisville, Yardley and Falls township area recently, due mostly to the fact that in that locale the United States Steel Company will erect one of its largest new plants.

In Bristol township so far this year, there have been 635 real estate transfers alone, with 176 in July and August alone, which is the most active area in the county at this time. During July and August there were 131 real estate transfers in Bensalem township.

Trentonians are moving into Bucks county in marked numbers, as real estate transfers in the Lower Makefield, Yardley and Middletown township and Langhorne indicate.

Three Divorces Are Granted in Court

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 21—Judge Edward G. Biester, in the Court of Common Pleas, granted a divorce to a Langhorne, RD. wife, the mother of three children, and a Newtown, RD. 1, matron, the mother of two children.

Mrs. Lillian B. Enright, Bridge-town pike, Langhorne, RD. was granted a divorce from John M. Enright, 1810 Spruce street, Philadelphia. They were married November 29, 1929, in Jersey City, N. J., in St. Patrick's Rectory, and have three children.

Mrs. Lillian M. Shields, 35, Newtown, RD. 1, was granted a divorce from Thomas Shields, 34, Torresdale Manor, Philadelphia. They were married August 31, 1935, in Philadelphia, and have two children.

The Most Beautiful Thing on Wheels

A Truly Wonderful Car!

If you were to sum up, in one word, the complete story of the new Pontiac, no word would fit so precisely as "wonderful."

It's the most natural thing in the world to describe Pontiac's rare beauty as "wonderful." No other word seems to quite do, either, for the luxurious comfort and appointments in Pontiac's big new Bodies by Fisher.

And on the road, Pontiac just naturally accepts superlatives—because it is such an eager car, such a relaxed, easy-striding performer—for such a long, long time.

Perhaps the most "wonderful" thing of all is Pontiac's price—so low that virtually nobody seriously challenges the idea that dollar for dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Al Spivak
(L. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 21—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers are moving toward wider acceptance of conservation practices curbing wasteful erosion of the Commonwealth's farm land.

During the first half of 1950, conservation plans were prepared for 1365 farms representing 155,907 acres in the State's 27 conservation districts.

The total farms for which plans have been prepared to date in the districts is 8,757, with an acreage of 1,032,595.

"Where soil conservation districts are in operation in Pennsylvania farmers generally are co-operating and the agriculture of the districts is improved," says State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst.

However, the districts represent only 26 of the State's 67 counties and part of Franklin County.

U. S. Soil Conservation Service Chief H. H. Bennett recently said that "we are over the hump and are winning the battle of soil conservation in Pennsylvania" but he added that "the district movement has not gone ahead fast enough."

The districts are aided in their conservation efforts by both Federal and State agencies and working agreements are in force with the State Highway Department, the State Game and Fish Commissions and the State Department of Forests and Waters.

Other areas are aided conservatively by the Agricultural Service of Pennsylvania State College. Districts in operation have shown continued progress, the State Agriculture Department reports, with these results recorded during the first six months of this year:

Total acres under contour farming—192,671, a gain of 20,191.

Total acreage where strip cropping is used—175,487, a gain of 18,880.

Total miles of terracing to conserve water and moisture—120, a gain of six.

The Department also reports 633 farm ponds stocked 143,486 fish in June, 1950, compared with 530 ponds and 129,116 fish at the beginning of the year.

A total of 7,660 acres are being drained through the use of tile and ditching compared with 6,928 at the beginning of the year. 83,882 acres are under woodland management, a rise of 57,552 and 913 acres are devoted to wildlife improvement, an increase of 139.

Assistance of the Department in drafting conservation plans was requested by 1,386 farmers during the year's first six months, while 11,925 had requested aid up to the end of 1949.

Despite the fact that 40 counties still have not created districts, Government officials are satisfied with progress during the five years the State's program has been in effect.

"Eighteen years ago the effort being devoted to soil conservation in Pennsylvania was close to zero," Bennett told a teachers' group at State College. "But now there is a going soil and water conservation program that is improving all the time and gaining momentum."

PUPIL LEARNS ABOUT ENGLAND FIRST-HAND

John R. Dufford, Jr., Morrisville, was Exchange Student

MAJORING IN ENGLISH

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 21—John R. Dufford, Jr., is majoring in English at school, and for the past year he's been learning about England first-hand.

"Jack," son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dufford of 28 Burgess avenue, recently returned from England, where he spent a year studying at Halesbury and Imperial Service college, 19 miles north of London. The young man, who will be a senior at Poddie School in Hightstown, N. J., was one of 20 exchange students from this country who went to Europe this year.

Not all of "Jack's" time was spent in study while he was abroad. During his Christmas and spring vacations "Jack" and Walter A. Sherman, of Manlius Academy, whom he met while going across the Atlantic ocean, were able to tour the continent. They hitch-hiked from Calais to Marseille, France, and then went on to Venice, Pisa, and Rome in Italy, Stuttgart in Germany, and Switzerland.

"Jack" says that he got along fine with the English boys at the school. Classes, he said, sometimes extended until early evening, but there was still plenty of time for sports. He played rugger, a combination of American soccer and football, and received his colors, a ten-foot white scarf with blue stripes. He also won his letter at tennis and took part in the heavy-weight division in boxing, and in the discus event on the track team.

Eggs and milk were the scarcest food items at the school, "Jack" reports. He received a pound of sugar a month, which he had to carry with him from his room to the dining hall. No smoking was permitted at any time at the school, he said.

Bucks County Bankers Hold First Fall Meeting

The Bank Management Committee of the Bucks County Bankers Association held the first of its regular fall and winter meetings Monday evening at the Doylestown

Inn. Thirty-five bankers, representing 15 Bucks County banks, attended the meeting.

T. Wells Knipe, cashier of the First National Bank of Perkasie, spoke of the plans for "Know Your Bank Week." Mr. Knipe, chairman of the Bucks County area, discussed means by which the banks of Bucks County can participate in this program being held in conjunction with "Pennsylvania Week."

Franklin A. Edwards, assistant treasurer of the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York, spoke on bank operating procedures. Mr. Edwards stressed the need for adequate supervision of all bank procedures and pointed out that it is now necessary to review operating procedures with the aim of achieving higher efficiency because of increased wages. "Potential manpower shortages occasioned by the present international crisis requires efficient operations," asserted Mr. Edwards.

C. Donald Moyer, Treasurer of the Bristol Trust Company and Chairman of the Bank Management Committee, announced that next month's meeting would be devoted to discussions of the manner in which the new Wage and Hour Law affects banking.
